A calf's Education
Great Glider Flight

Motorize, Not Mobilize

By Arthur Brisbane

HARVEST RANCH, San Bernardino, Calif., April 6.—Rounding up of the cattle and branding of calves today on the Laguna section of this ranch, about 350,000 acres in extent.

You ride a cow pony six or seven miles over small mountains, covered with wild oats, a natural growth, and set off, the bawling of calves and bellowing of their mothers.

About 2500 calves in all are to be branded, dehorned and vaccinated against blackleg, a mysterious disease that comes with high feeding and quick growth on these pastures, rich in protein.

Inside a corral a few hundred calves bawl without ceasing, their mothers, patiently waiting outside the fence, bellow continuously. An occasional heavy-headed bull looks on, worrying about the calves not at all. Something familiar about him, you have seen human fathers just as indifferent.

Within that corral the tiny horns are taken off, caustic applied to prevent resprouting. Each animal is branded on the ear and shoulder, then vaccinated, with additional treatment for the bull calves.

They are and little animals when our meat-raising civilization finishes with them. But their educational troubles are over until they meet the butchers, a short time later, and that meeting at least, is painful.

In the long run, man diminishes their sufferings. He has eliminated with dipping, ticks that would worry them through life, and his vaccination saves them from long disease, many of them from death, long drawn out.

A. F. Parks, manager of the big ranch, assures you that it does not really hurt the calves. They would be a wailing, woe, just afraid to be caught.

A tall blond cowboy, six feet four, cowboy heels included, exclaims, "Hurt them? Sure not. They enjoy it. It's the only excitement they ever have, and we wait a time all these folks are having."

He is perfectly sincere in his belief that about the best excitement "The folks" are "neighbor" ranches that come from far and near, with their children and to lead a hand "take a nose" into the beautiful feast that meets away, while the calves still bellow.

In raising fine cattle, says Mr. Parks, the father is more important than the mother. The late John E. Madden, eldest of horsemen, said that with horses the mother is more important.

Both right, probably. But counts in cattle, spirit and size counts in horses. Mothers supply the spirit and courage.

Some cows have no calves "Any good milking," says Mr. Parks, "can pick out the barren cow. Just by riding through the herd. They are all ribbed up, no heavy barrel, as graceful as a deer."

Such cows go to the butcher, as fast as they are wanted out. No cow, to her husband, who is barren voluntarily. Not so, with us humans.

The country congratulates Captain Hawley on his story of the glider flight from ocean to ocean, a new flying feat. He has established the sturdiness of the glider, which is, in reality, a floating parachute, under the rider's control.

Col. Lindbergh says it will do more than the power plane to educate new fliers.

Walter S. Marvin, chairman of the Curtis Airport board, who flew up here from Santa Barbara, for luncheon, yesterday, predicts that gliders will soon be equipped with low powered engines, just enough to use to keep them going, like the "outboard" engines attached to rowboats.

Russia, much pleased with recent Communist-unemployed demonstrations in this and other countries, predicts a great demonstration for May 3, which is Labor Day in Europe.

The important Leningrad newspaper, Izvestia, predicts that there will be a great demonstration of the "American working classes in favor of Communism."

Mr. Stalin could avoid needless expense and disappointment by looking into our national automobile statistics.

$5000 REWARD

GARRETT IGNORES ORDER TO SURRENDER AUTO PLATES

Garrett's automobile registration was not renewed and police have been searching for the plates. Commissioner Wilson, however, said that the plates were not renewed and that the car was not registered. He said that the car was not registered and that the plates were not renewed. He said that the car was not registered and that the plates were not renewed.

HUNT FOR PLATES

Garrett's registration was ordered renewed on March 25 by Registering Bureau, following notification of renewal of his commission in advance police for non-payment of premium. Registrar Patrick notified Garrett in a letter of the action and asked that the plates of the car be renewed. He said that the car was not registered and that the plates were not renewed. He said that the car was not registered and that the plates were not renewed.

TOLD TO FIND IT

Today, he was ordered to get the plates of the car registered as a condition of his release. He said that the car was not registered and that the plates were not renewed. He said that the car was not registered and that the plates were not renewed. He said that the car was not registered and that the plates were not renewed.

PARKER IN LINE

The resignation offered by Mr. Parker, registrar of motor vehicles, is being considered by the commission. He said that the car was not registered and that the plates were not renewed. He said that the car was not registered and that the plates were not renewed. He said that the car was not registered and that the plates were not renewed.

Who'll Be New Police Commissioner?

Mr. Nichols, Mr. Parker, and Mr. Hultman. Talk of "who'll get Wilson's job" is heard. Mr. Parker is registrar of motor vehicles. It was he who today ordered revocation of Garrett's automobile license. Former Mayor Nichols, a Republican leader, is prominently mentioned, as is Eugene C. Hultman, building commissioner and former fire commissioner.

GARRETT POWER CAUSED SHIFT OF CAPTAIN

Raider, Charged With Insubordination Had Walkins' Command Taken Away

Details of the "rule-in" between Oliver B. Garrett and Capt. James J. Walkins, said to have resulted in the transfer of the captain from the Mattapan division, were revealed today.

For two years the story of Capt. Walkins' transfer was untold, but many "in the know" had heard of "Oliver Garrett's jam" with him.

The light of the attorney-general's investigation now has turned on this phase of Garrett's official career and today the story is unfolded. It is alleged:

That Garrett ordered Lieut. William J. Carey, then a sergeant, to send the station "wagon" to convey prisoners in a raid.

That Carey refused, then, because the wagon was in other use, but told Garrett it would be sent along in the morning.

The following abusive language by Garrett, Capt. Walkins filed charges against Garrett, resulting in insubordination.

Garrett said that Carey was unpunished, but that Capt. Walkins was in charge of the Mattapan division when he remained firm in his charges.

The tale of Garrett's "influence," during his reign as chief of the liquor squad was cited by investigators as an example of the attorney-general's office in prosecuting charges against the run squad.

Following his forwarding of charges against the run squad, Garrett was transferred, on July 5, 1928, to office in charge of police headquarters at night. This was generally considered a disciplinary move, as it took from Walkins the executive direction of one of the largest divisions in Boston.

Capt. John D. Driscoll, said to be a relative of one of Commissioner Wilson's closest personal friends, was transferred from the East Boston area station to the Mattapan division.

This shift took place about two months after the indictment of Nicholas Costello, Albert Sullivan and three others, the result of evidence presented by Sgt. Arthur Connolly and Special Officer Arthur Tierman.

During the war Mr. Harding was managing director of the War Police Corporation. He was awarded the degree of Doctor of Laws by the University of Alabama in 1916 and by Harvard University in 1922.

Mr. Harding considered one of his greatest achievements the fact that he succeeded in keeping the Federal Reserve Board out of politics. In January, 1920, he delivered a notable address in which he warned the approaching danger of the Federal Reserve Board.

He found that America had been in a state of "paranoia" since the close of the war, and that the Federal Reserve Board was a "paranoid" institution.

The former member, the late John Skelton Williams, complained of currency under the Wilson administration, joined the board of currency under the Harding administration, and the incident led to a flat reconstruction between Harding and Williams before a Congressional committee of inquiry.

The deceased was descended from a long line of New England ancestors, going back to the Plymouth colony. His father was Horace Harding, a graduate of Harvard in the class of 1848 who formerly had a residence on Beacon.

His grandfather was Chester Harding, a Boston artist who was widely known as a portrait painter of some of the most prominent men of his time. "Ten of Chester Harding's portraits are hanging in the Boston Athenaeum."

He has been the subject of Waterman's funeral parlors on Commonwealth ave. in several funeral arrangements.

GARRETT CASE

Late Banker

Man Who Dejected "Grafting Cops" Is to Testify at Garrett Inquiry

A former manager of the Ritz Hotel will, it is expected, be a witness in the Garrett case this week. He will not only corroborate the testimony of John B. Sullivan, but will also add many revelations that Sullivan failed to include during his 45 minutes on the stand last week.

The witness was the most trusted member of Sullivan staff at the Ritz Hotel, and following the Ritz indictment was a constant companion of the hotel owner. He also testified at the trial of Nicholas Costello and Albert Sullivan.

For several years prior to the closing of the hotel, he had assumed most of the responsibilities at the place and it is known that he expressed hatred towards "chickens" who took his employer on many occasions.

Persons close to the investigation have learned that the former manager informed Sullivan several times that he was being "bled to death" and pointed out to Sullivan that the cost of the "Business of Entertainment" which was the name hotel employs gave room for police officers were maintained, were just as high as those of the gratuity paid out for protection.

Sullivan failed to get on these warnings, believing that sooner or later he would "break a back" following the trial in which he lost $4500 worth of liquor he said to be lost to the hotel.

He was not alone in his belief that he might just as well close the place as to have the gratuity paid out for protection.

The attorney-general's investigators have the name of this man, and a record of his testimony at the Ritz trial. It is possible to tell that the details will come out in the trial.

The story told on the witness stand by Sullivan has been ridiculed by many. It is said that they raised an small amount of money to keep the hotel open for several months.

It is the former manager's friend and is willing to talk, he can relate at least part of the story. He is a former member of the liquor squad and women in the hotel.

PEOPLE TALKING AND PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT IN GARRETT CASE

JOHN F. SULLIVAN | NICHOLAS COCKINOS | Sergt. ARTHUR D. TIMMONS | Lt. DANIEL J. HINES | ARTHUR TIERNAN | Mrs. LILLIAN HATCH | ALBERT SIDLINGER | HERBERT E. WILSON | Mrs. OLIVER B. GARRETT | OLIVER B. GARRETT

Here is the cast—as thus far named or named—in the remarkable Garrett case exposed by some of the conditions prevailing in Boston under prohibition, “enforcement.” Sullivan, near to death and scornful of whatever vengeance the gang might wreak upon his whitened head, sprang the big sensation of the hearing when he named police to whom he said he had paid bribes. Cockinos, former Watch and Ward agent, in jail, gave startling testimony. Sergt. Timmons is among those named by Sullivan. Lieut. Hines is said to have grown rich since prohibition. Officer Tiernan is another named by Sullivan. Mrs. Hatch, said to be Garrett's aunt—judged at her home in Allston—is named by Sullivan as a “go-between” with his bribes to Garrett. Sidlinger, also in jail, charges he was “framed,” and he exposed the nefarious practice of bribery and graft. Police Commissioner Wilson is next. He has been named by some witnesses, but Sullivan said he never paid the commissioner. He gave some most “peculiar” testimony about his inactivity during all the shameful goings-on. Next, above, are Mrs. Garrett and her husband, Oliver B. Under liquor raid “czar” of Boston and now the most talked about man in the city.

17 ARE DEAD IN TRAIN PLAST

Tokyo, April 7 (AP)—The Railway Ministry today announced 17 persons had been killed and seven seriously injured in an explosion aboard a train near the city of Yokohama. The explosion was attributed to dynamite, which was believed to have become mixed in the coal used by the engine.

The explosion occurred shortly after noon yesterday, but the seriousness of the blast did not become known here until today. All the dead were passengers. A majority of the 17 apparently lived for several hours after the explosion. The blast started a great fire which burned all night.

Ban Chas. Chaplin, Lloyd in Prague

Prague, April 7 (AP)—Two of America's most popular film comedians have fallen foul of the Prague movie censors. Charlie Chaplin and Harold Lloyd have just been banned. The inimitable Charlie was foolish enough in one film to be beaten by his wife. Harold, in society film, married his sweetheart on the film pretense that he was a bank manager.

“Marriage is degraded by the first and business libeled by the second film,” say the censors.

American three-power treaty is all set and ready to go. The treaty will have about $500,000,000 in the next six years; each nation will scrap three battleships, and not build any more for a long time. Goody, goody, as the child says. But what KIND of battleships will Britain and Japan scrap? Will they scrap ships still able to go under their own power? Or will they scrap lovely blue and white ships as the late Lord Balfour so nobly scrapped when he made amusing scraps of our statesmen?

Thirteen years ago, today, this country entered the war, after yelling about a statesman that “kept us out of it.” For a little while that war cost us fifty-one thousand million dollars, and will cost us fifty thousand millions more, before we cease paying for it. Taxpayers have paid more than six billions, in interest on the war debt, already. The exact sum paid is $5,765,000,000.

Our share of nine hundred millions to be saved, by tying ourselves up in a new foreign engagement, would not amount to much, compared with the cost of a new war.

Uncle Sam should keep ready and able to defend himself, no matter what anybody else may do, and without anybody's help. He is rich and powerful enough to do that.

And with an adequate air fleet and submarine fleet, it would not be expensive, as defense costs go.

If we have any triple alliance, it should be made up of Mexico, Canada, United States, ALL-AMERICAN, ALL-INTERESTED IN THE SAME TERRITORY.

And we should be grateful to the British dominions, Canada especially for squashing the stupid suggestion that this nation guaranteed to take part in defending European nations in case of attack.

Canada and other British dominions said to Britain, “You can give that guarantee over England, but not for us,” and the scheme fell flat, happily for us.

30 FAMILIES ARE OUSTED BY FIRE

Springfield, April 7—Thirty families were driven to the street and damage of $10,000 was caused today when an explosion and fire wrecked two stores in the apartment block at 833 Main st.

The fire was incendiary, according to deputy chief of the fire department, John Strong, and he started an immediate investigation. The explosion occurred in the barber shop of Tony Battie, wrecking the shop and badly damaging a chain store next door.

Patrolman Harry J. Lawrence raced through the building to give the alarm. The four-story building is made up of small apartments. Apparatus from all sections of the city rushed to the scene and stopped the fire on the second floor.

Ocean Travelers in Customs Quiz

New York, April 7 (AP)—A questionnaire sent out by Frank X. A. Edie, commissioner of customs at Washington, asks travelers whether customs inspectors have solicited them for gratuities.

The questionnaire which, it was learned, has been sent to 20,000 persons who have landed in New York from Europe in the last two years, also asks whether inspectors called later at their homes or business addresses for compensation.

Rare Tigers Shot by U. S. Explorer

Moscow, April 7—William J. Morrison, chief of the Mexican-Graves Siberian expedition for the New York Museum of Natural History, telegraphed from Novosibirsk that the expedition has shot three of the world's last specimens of the Siberian tiger.

The animals were found living in caves along the Amur river. Many other rare animals have been collected by the expedition, which is now en route to Alaska.

BLOCKS MILES STIMSON DRAWS DEATH INQUIRY 3-POWER PACT

In session at her Long 141-2 N. Y. estate, Mrs. M. H. Rogers, wife of the Standard Oil multimillionaire today blinked Washington investigations probing the death of Basil Miles, her former husband, by her allies.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Neil Burkhaw seeks from Mrs. Rogers authority to exhume the body of the late diplomat, who rumor has said died soon after drinking a highball.

Mrs. Rogers has remained incommunicado at the $1,000,000 estate called “The Port of Missing Men.”

The case took on a strange aspect with arrival of an affidavit from Hollywood that Mrs. Wiles Root, wife of a scenario writer, was present when Miles died in a Washington hospital. Mrs. Root, formerly Linn Rogers, denied any high ball had been given Miles before death.

Miles is buried in Laurel Hill Cemetery, Philadelphia.

SPEEDER KILLS 1; 12 HURT

New York, April 7—One man was killed and 12 other persons injured today by an auto that, police said, was driven 50 miles an hour through a crowd around an outdoor event in a park at Manhattan.

The driver of the speeding car did not stop.

The man killed was Theodore Winder, 25 of Staten Island.

One of the cars in the collision was occupied by James Burke, 18, and sister, Sarah, 25, of West-Ford, N. J. The car was driven by Henry Graham, 23, of Staten Island.

More than 30 persons and a no-man taking notes were on the scene when a third auto approached at terrific speed.

A warning was shouted, but before all had gained the sidewalk the car hurtled men and women in all directions.

Calls were sent to three hospitals and ambulances and surgeons worked more than an hour in attending the injured.

Philadelphia, April 7 (AP)—A man who gave his name as Frank L. Le Due and his address Holyoke, Mass., was held by police today on a charge of disorderly conduct after he is alleged to have tried to end his life with gas.

Police said Le Due told of being poisoned until he lost his $80,000 business in Holyoke by the stock market crash. Before seeking death he said he gave his last dime to a beggar.

BIG GAS GUSHER ADDS TO PERIL

Oklahoma City, April 7 (AP)—A gas well, estimated to be producing at a rate of 2,000,000 feet a day, blew in at the edge of the city today, creating a new fire threat less than 24 hours after the wild No. 1 Mary Sudik gusher, seven miles to the south, was being controlled.

The gusher was spouting a big column of highly inflammable gas into the air. No immediate steps were taken to stop the flow.

The well, owned by the Indian Territory Petroleum Co., a company, which also owns the Mary Sudik, is located a mile east of the edge of Capitol Hill, a suburb, and lies across a paved street bordering on Trepper park.

Atomic Structure of Lutecium Discovered by Scientist

The bottom diagram shows the spectrum and atomic structure of lutecium, discovered by a Bureau of Standards scientist, was only after a search lasting more than a year that Dr. Meggers and Mr. Scribner were able to announce to the waiting scientific world the successful results of their long months of experimentation. (International Newsweek photos.)

Dr. Meggers is shown using the electric spark, by means of which he discovered the atomic structure of lutecium. Dr. Meggers obtained spectra photographs after first throwing off three outer electrons of lutecium by use of the spark.

Boston May Have a Harbor Show Boat

Mayor Curley Is Considering a Steamer to Oblige Visitors

Mayor Curley has under consideration providing a special steamer to be used in Boston harbor this summer, to show temporary visitors historic spots along the waterfront.

This project, which is the original idea of Frank S. Davis, of the marine association of the Chamber of Commerce, has the backing of hundreds of harbor business men. The value of such a steamer is twofold. Besides showing the sights to casual visitors, the steamer

ON OUR WATER

It would be used to demonstrate to visiting business men the many advantages of Boston harbor. The port of Montreal maintains a full time steamer to show the harbor to visiting dignitaries. Philadelphia, which is planning to build a drive for direct trans-Atlantic service, has a similar boat.

"We think such a steamer is the most practical thing which could be done to help the harbor, and now, in relation to the temporary."

The Daughters of the American Revolution will hold their annual convention here during May 21/22. On the 22nd of the month, they want use of a steamer to show the harbor.

Mrs. P. Alfred Patterson of Arlington, chairman of the committee, expects 125 or more guests to make the harbor tour. To these women, the harbor is rich in historical treasures. This convention is only one of some 600 expected here during 1930.

On Being a "Sea Lawyer"

Speaking of traditions, a few definitions are in order. A good newspaperman is one who can write a column on any subject, at any time and at any place. A good lawyer can talk for an hour on any subject, any time and any place. A "sea lawyer," according to the old sailor, can "talk for an hour and sail, principally confined to bragging."

"We're going to play 'sea lawyer' for a few lines, to make an announcement about a new feature of the Boston Evening American shipping news. We have the best arrangements to print each day the reports of fishermen's catches brought in that forenoon. Look for this in the late afternoon editions, at the bottom of the table of ship arrivals and departures."

Not a Fish Story

When Capt. David Bone reported some months ago he had lost his ship at Georges Bank and could not "find bottom" off New York, this was at first held as a "fish story." Now, however, the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey is questioning all matters of transatlantic liners as to their experience. Official announcements will be taken this summer.

This survey is prompted principally in the interests of fishermen. The submarine earthquake is believed to have broken away part of the continental shelf.

Harbor Clean-Up

Like a good housewife, Mayor Curley had a spring house-cleaning of the various slums and public buildings of interest to transient visitors. Why not take the house-husband to the harbor, Mr. Mayor? For

HARRY AND HIS CANE

Among the celebrities on Big List, was none other than Harry Acton. For some reason, Mr. Hearst pays Harry money to write ship news for the New York American. We are requested Harry by his company self-consciously away from his arm. Why away their toes. Kid Chicago, your column is good. In fact, we've heard of business men proudly wear the new striped handkerchiefs that "Harry" Acton mentioned in his newspaper once upon a time."

Women Bring Bad Luck (?)

We're a member of the great American diplomatic corps consisting of all married men so we use this heading merely to guide a sailor superstitious. Our little series about traditions of Boston seems to have clicked, so here goes for another.

Most captains seem to feel that a woman on board will cause a storm. (Not that this doesn't happen in shore, but—) A simple explanation of this superstition is that a woman's hair or the steel stays in her corset will deflect the compass.

What's that? You want that the compass is safe today?

No Need to Worry

Boston fishermen were at first greatly concerned by a report of a tax of one-third cent per pound to be assessed by the Canadian government on all fish taken in Canadian waters. A study of the law handed here gives this ratio caught off Newfoundland, 7,000,000 pounds of Canada, 1,500,000 off U. S. points, 212,500,000 pounds. Therefore, the Canadian catches need not worry Boston fishermen particularly.

Goldman to Conduct

Frank Goldman of New York, city will be the guest conductor of the hands at the State music festival to be held in Waltham on May 17. The committee will meet on Wednesday to select judges.

Steamship Notes

A Boston woman, Mrs. E. E. Hardy, is steaming southward on the Canadian National Steamer, Lady Hawkins, which swung into the Hub from Halifax for Bermuda and the West Indies. Many Americans are on board this trip.

The amount of paint used on the Leviathan in drydock would paint an entire small American village.

PORT OF BOSTON

The Lighthouse Service announces that a radio-beacon at Cape Cod Light Station was established the first of this month. The radio-beacon transmits every 180 seconds, groups of two dashes and one dot for 80 seconds, then silent 120 seconds on a frequency of 300 kilocycles.

Boston will want to keep a weather eye on Philadelphia. This city of brotherly love is about to start a campaign to bring about the establishment of direct transatlantic passenger and freight services. The Chamber of Commerce committee will make a survey for various routes.

Eastern Steamship lines announce that Captain George Washington and Robert E. Lee will resume the Old Dominion line service between New York and Norfolk. These veterans of the Boston run to the metropolis were recently replaced by the renovated steamers New York and Boston.

Balanced-Meal Planning for the Family

WHILE we try not to be too technical in this department, we do get in many inquiries about how to choose food combinations that will keep the family right up to par that we must find space today to talk a little about food classifications. All the food that we eat can be placed under one of three headings: fuel, building or regulating.

Fuel food is that which provides the body with heat and energy, and thus is little danger of not having enough foods from this group unless the family interest is adequate.

The building foods are those which keep the body in repair and which build the new tissues of the growing child.

The regulating foods are those which keep the body machinery in good running order. These are the foods which contain laxative materials, minerals and vitamins, and this is the group most often neglected in meal planning. Special care should be taken to include one or more regulations in every meal.

Fuel Group Building Group Regulating Group
 Cereals All Beans
 Fats Eggs
 Sugars Fish
 Honey Fruit
 Vegetables Meat
 Potatoes Milk
 Curr. etc. Vegetables

1. Select at least one food from each group for every meal.
 2. Use fresh eggs, fresh fruits and fresh vegetables.
 3. Serve two or more vegetables (other than potatoes) every day.
 4. Serve fruit at least once a day.

Bright Dish Towels

Is there anything the particular housewife takes more pride in than spotlessly fresh dish towels? And by the way, it is not a matter of more positive marks of carcase cleanliness than crisp, gray, stained glass and dish towels?

The more experienced housekeeper has probably long ago solved the problem of keeping these important towels white and stainless, but perhaps the novice housewife has not yet discovered that by adding 3 cups of soda to each part of lukewarm water, even rather ancient and grubby towels can be made spotlessly clean and stainless.

This same magic of the "sunday" will also wash, bleach and remove ordinary stains from white cotton and linen clothes and keep them snowy white. It is not necessary to change from your usual way of washing clothes to obtain superior results. Just add this wonder worker to cold or lukewarm water, stir thoroughly, rinse thoroughly in clear water and see how never before such crispness!

Rice Krispies just crackle in milk or cream. They're crisp, rice. Bubbles of wonderful flavor. Nothing like them were ever made before.

Have Rice Krispies for breakfast. Try them with fruits and honey added. Make delicious macaroni. Sprinkle them into soups. At dinners, made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

LOCAL houses are sending to market the tender green lettuce which deserves an important place on spring diets, especially when it is reasonable to eat a head. iceberg lettuce is also plentiful, and dandelion green prices have dropped to an average of 20 cents a pound.

Some of these dandelions are coming from nearby hotbeds, and the tender ones are getting outdoors. The ones that are coming from hotbeds are getting outdoors. The ones that are coming from hotbeds are getting outdoors.

SHREDDED CODFISH AND RICE BALLS

1 cup rice
 1 1/2 cups cold water
 1/2 cup boiling water
 1/2 cup butter
 1/2 cup bread crumbs
 1/2 cup fine
 1/2 cup pepper
 1/2 cup milk
 1 egg
 Deep fat

Put rice to boil over a quick fire in cold water. After boiling 3 minutes, drain and rinse in cold water. Return to the fire in the boiling water and let cook until tender and dry. Melt butter, in it cook the rice until boiling, then stir in one beaten egg; let cook without boiling, then add shredded codfish, freshened in a little cold water and drained in fine sieve or wrung dry in cloth, and the rice. Mix all together thoroughly and shape into balls. Roll in beaten egg and soft bread crumbs, then fry in deep fat. The first egg may be omitted.

DIETERS BEWARE!

Just a word of warning to the army of pursuers of the slender silhouette! A famous physician recommends that many women, possessing no real knowledge of the complicated organisms with which they are trifling, will limit themselves to an insufficient amount of sugar in their diet without the slightest realization that too little sugar is a common cause of starvation acidosis.

Remember, too, that sugar relieves fatigue quickly—a fact recognized by our finest athletes and coaches. Sugar is really crystallized energy—and our daily expenditure of energy seems to be increasing with every day and year.

PIE CRUST

1 cup flour, sifted (100 parts)
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 cup shortening
 1 egg
 1/2 cup cold water

Sift flour and salt, cut in shortening, mix thoroughly and usually let it stand a few moments to let the water absorb as much as possible. Then gather it into a ball, place on plate, cover with waxed paper and put in ice box or some cool place for at least half an hour, more often longer. Roll out to size of plate and cover pie plate, then prick. Cook about 15 minutes.

Daily Antique No. 65

The article shown today is nearly 300 years old and was in service under unusual conditions over a long period. It is an old book of binding type, and was carried through the entire Revolutionary War by Maj.-Gen. Donald Cookin of Northampton, Mass.

The book is now in the possession of the general's great-grandson, Dr. James B. Thornton of 265 Commonwealth ave., Boston. In Dr. Thornton's office and home are numerous articles of great interest and historic value, dating from the time of the Revolution and previous decades. Dr. Thornton, through his ancestry, is a member of the Society of the Cincinnati.

In connection with the Massachusetts Tercentenary Year, the Boston Evening American is publishing daily photographs of interesting antiques. Owners of genuine antiques, particularly of Colonial or early American origin or of historic association are invited to forward photographs and records for publication. If a photograph is not available, the American will send a cameraman to photograph the antique, provided the owner lives in Greater Boston. Address the "Antique Editor," 3 Winthrop sq., Boston.

Police Shows Loss of 164 Votes

The loss of 164 potential votes without party identification is revealed in the total figures of the police voting made public today by Sgt. of Police Michael H. Crowley. From April 1 to April 3 the Boston force of 2000 officers listed 302,347 adults of both sexes in the city as compared with 302,838 listed at the same time last year. Under the direction of Inspector Thomas Mulvane, a corps of 60 clerks will tabulate and classify the total enumerated this year and send their results to the Board of Election Commissioners for inclusion in the annual issue of registered voters.

Colored Linen Suits Latest Mode for Men

New Orleans, April 7.—With the spring hat and linen suit season in full swing here new colored linen suits have been introduced as a solution of a question which long has worried New Orleans men. Suits in several other colors are also on display. A manufacturer said in a letter to writers: "They will sell, because the women like the colors and women always win." The first one to be worn on the street here, a dandy creation of pale robin egg blue, attracted a small mob of cheering women.

Tercentenary Tone to Symphony Concert

The tercentenary celebration had its musical beginnings at Jordan Hall yesterday, when the 100th Century Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Raffaele Marzio, gave a concert for the benefit of the headquarters and welfare fund of the River Arnel, Jr. Post, No. 117, American Legion. None of the pieces on the program, which was played in candlelight by players in 18th century costumes, was written after the year 1800. One of the features of the varied program was the Bach Concerto in D minor, played by soloists, organist and two pianists. Reinhold Bourdman and Gertrude Lord were the pianist, Richard Apple the organist.

W. G. A. Prepares for Annual Spring Championships

TEAM SERIES THE NEXT WEEK

B. C. Lineup as Practically Settled

By BILL GRIMES

ONE week from today will mark the opening of the annual spring team match championships of the Women's Golf Association of Boston.

For the second time in the annual W. G. A. team matches, Brae Burn won the title last season. The Central District was champions for two seasons but after winning its opening match with the North District, it was eliminated from the running. The Brae Burn team split off to a poor start a year ago. The new club players were on the losing ends of their matches with Southern and Northern, and because three or four of their team players were in the Brae Burn started to drive to the championship in the third match of the season at Woodland and incidentally furnished the first upset by defeating Middlesex 4 to 4.

The next week, Brae Burn came through with another surprise by routing out a 5-0 victory over Central, the defending champion, and recovered from last to fourth place in the standing. And in the final round, the Country Club of the past season, originally scheduled as third on the list, won its third consecutive match.

Brae Burn Was Victor in Last Year's Play

Brae Burn went into a first-place tie with Midland, the following day, after defeating the Central District, and at the conclusion of the seventh match, Brae Burn was tied with Midland and Central, having lost to the Country Club at Brookline, while Central was defeating Midland.

Playing on their home course, the Brae Burn team took the lead in that place when they turned back Midland and Central, both of whom were tied for second place. Then Brae Burn clinched the title by defeating Central 5-0.

Although the personnel of the six clubs will be practically identical with last year's lineup, with the exception of the Central District, they will all be under new leaders.

Mrs. F. A. Stanwood will again captain Midland, but Mrs. William F. Burtis, Jr., has been elected captain of the Brae Burn team. Mrs. C. F. Burtis, Jr., has been elected captain of the Country Club. Mrs. E. H. Burtis, Jr., has been elected captain of the Central District. Mrs. H. K. Burtis, Jr., has been elected captain of the Northern District. Mrs. J. K. Burtis, Jr., has been elected captain of the Southern District.

Mrs. Gardiner may play With The Country Club. A movement is underway to strengthen the Country Club, to the extent of having the Country Club dinner play for the Brookline Club. Mrs. Gardiner is a member of Western and Oakley, which are on the central district, which is the strongest in the organization.

It is also a member of the Country Club which may gather its forces from a very limited number of golfers. If Mrs. Gardiner decides to play for the Country Club, the Clyde Park team will be more formidable and better fitted to make a real bid for the title.

ONE week from today will mark the opening of the annual spring team match championships of the Women's Golf Association of Boston.

For the second time in the annual W. G. A. team matches, Brae Burn won the title last season. The Central District was champions for two seasons but after winning its opening match with the North District, it was eliminated from the running. The Brae Burn team split off to a poor start a year ago. The new club players were on the losing ends of their matches with Southern and Northern, and because three or four of their team players were in the Brae Burn started to drive to the championship in the third match of the season at Woodland and incidentally furnished the first upset by defeating Middlesex 4 to 4.

The next week, Brae Burn came through with another surprise by routing out a 5-0 victory over Central, the defending champion, and recovered from last to fourth place in the standing. And in the final round, the Country Club of the past season, originally scheduled as third on the list, won its third consecutive match.

Brae Burn Was Victor in Last Year's Play

Brae Burn went into a first-place tie with Midland, the following day, after defeating the Central District, and at the conclusion of the seventh match, Brae Burn was tied with Midland and Central, having lost to the Country Club at Brookline, while Central was defeating Midland.

Playing on their home course, the Brae Burn team took the lead in that place when they turned back Midland and Central, both of whom were tied for second place. Then Brae Burn clinched the title by defeating Central 5-0.

Although the personnel of the six clubs will be practically identical with last year's lineup, with the exception of the Central District, they will all be under new leaders.

Mrs. F. A. Stanwood will again captain Midland, but Mrs. William F. Burtis, Jr., has been elected captain of the Brae Burn team. Mrs. C. F. Burtis, Jr., has been elected captain of the Country Club.
